

III. Information Scan Of The Area

The Big Sandy Area Development District, located in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, is composed of five counties: Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike. The District has a land area of 1981 square miles with an estimated population of 159,099 in 2004, a slight decline from the 2000 Census of 160,532. Within the District's five counties there are 12 incorporated cities, with Pikeville, Prestonsburg, and Paintsville being the largest cities with estimated populations in 2003 of 6,286, 3,677, and 4,031, a slight decline for Pikeville and Paintsville from the 2000 Census Population of 6,295 and 4,132 and slight increase from the 2000 Census Population of 3,612. The 2000 Population projections show a significant population decline of 8,685 or -5.4% by year 2030, the 2004 population estimates is illustrating the initial stages of declination. Although Census data shows declines in some areas throughout the region there is growth in others. According to 2000 estimates, the number of residents over age 65 will more than double by 2020. The number of residents 18-64 will grow at a slower pace. There will be slower growth of working-age adults than of retiring senior citizens.

Subsequent pages reflect updates and changes in general demographic data, economic data, which include but are not limited to workforce, unemployment rate, per capita income, poverty rates etc.

Please note no significant changes exist in the original area scan under the specified categories for information refer to the CEDS 2002 document.
